Day 1 — Build on Wisdom First

Date: _____

Time: _____

Opening Prayer

Father, I come before You today with my faith, my work, my leadership, my decisions, and my future. Before I build anything else, help me build on wisdom. Teach me to honor You in the way I think, speak, plan, lead, and serve. Give me a teachable heart, a steady spirit, and the courage to choose Your way over my own impulses. In Jesus' name, amen.

Proverbs 1:7 (NIV) — Read this verse in your Bible or Bible app.

Today's Wisdom Word

Foundation

Today's Wisdom Lesson

Proverbs begins with a clear truth: wisdom is the foundation of a life that honors God. Before a leader builds a brand, business, ministry, offer, schedule, or platform, the heart must learn to respect God's voice.

The fear of the Lord means reverence, honor, and deep respect. It means God's Word gets the final say, even when our feelings, timelines, and pressure are loud. A wise person listens and receives instruction. A foolish person rejects correction because comfort feels easier than change.

For faith-based leaders and entrepreneurs, this matters because vision without wisdom can become stressful. A good idea without discipline can become scattered. A platform without humility can become dangerous. Wisdom gives your purpose a foundation strong enough to carry what God is building through you.

Personal Faith Application

Ask God to show you where your foundation needs strengthening. Do you need more prayer, more order, more accountability, or more humility? Start this journey with a teachable heart.

Leadership / Entrepreneur Application

Before making another major move, review the foundation beneath it. Is this decision rooted in wisdom, pressure, comparison, or fear? A wise leader builds slowly enough to build well.

Today's Wisdom Step

Write down one area of your life, business, ministry, or leadership where you need God’s wisdom before you make another move. Pray over it before taking action.

Mz. Bee Note: Before you put “CEO” on everything, make sure wisdom is sitting in the boardroom. Your logo can be cute, your planner can be full, and your coffee can be strong — but wisdom still needs the chair at the head of the table.

Reflection & Notes

Day 1 — Build on Wisdom First

Reflection Questions

• Where do I need God’s wisdom most right now?

• What decision have I been trying to make without fully seeking God?

• Am I open to correction, or have I been resisting instruction?

• What would change if wisdom became my first response instead of my last resort?

My Reflections

Daily Declaration

I build on wisdom first. I honor God with my decisions, my leadership, my work, and my future.

Closing Prayer

Lord, thank You for reminding me that wisdom is the foundation. Help me not to rush ahead without You. Teach me to listen, receive correction, and make choices that honor You personally and professionally. Let my work, leadership, and purpose be built on truth, humility, and obedience. In Jesus' name, amen.
